Jr. Golfers Compete

Sun Staff Reports

The Alameda Junior Golf Club continued its summer season with the Club Championship tournament at the Chuck Corica Golf Complex last Wednesday, Aug. 3.

Conor Neal won the championship on the boys' side with a 76 (37 on the front nine, and a 39 on the back). Elizabeth Scholtes won the tournament on the girls' side with a 72. She shot a 36 on both the front and back.

In other competition, Jacob Katanski beat Harrod Tang in a tiebreaker to win the 16- to 18-year-old boys' division. They both shot a 78. Peter Del Prete shot a 79 for third place.

Dominick Chung posted an 81 to win the 14- to 15-year-old boys' division. Beck Anderson shot an 83, while Liam Neal shot an 88. Alphiu Esguerra was able to get under 80 on his way to win the boys' 12- to 13-year-old competition. He shot a 79. Henry Lambert finished two strokes behind at 81, while Brice Chin finished in third with an 87. Amaan Kanji shot a 27 (nine-hole competition) to win the boys' 10- to 11-year-old division.

Lauren Tan was victorious in the girls' 15- to 18-year-old division. She shot a 78. Alexandra Hauck and Corine Tan both shot 82 to tie for second place in the division, but Hauck won the tiebreaker. Alezis Esguerra posted a 75 to win the girls' 12- to 14-year-old division. She blew away the competition. Isabel Kim was the next closest competitor by shooting an 84. Penny Chai shot a 34 (nine-hole competition) to win the girls' 10- to 11-year-old division.

Try Paddleboarding Free

Sun Staff Reports

A global water sports equipment company will be holding a paddleboard demonstration in Alameda next Thursday, Aug. 18.

Jobe Watersports will be conducting the demo at Mike's Paddle, 1150 Ballena Blvd., at 4 p.m. The demo is free and open to the public. Visitors at event will have the chance to try Jobe stand up paddleboards (SUPs) and experience products from four co-sponsors: Johnnie-O clothing, Bai Natural Drink, Eagle Eyes, CLIF Bar®, JoFit, Eagles Nest Outfitters, GU Energy Gel and Rockview Farms.

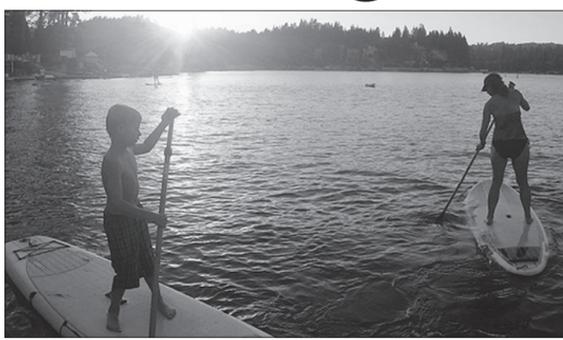

The event is part of Jobe Watersports "SUP 2 The People" demo tour. The tour launched on July 17, in Colorado, Calif. It includes stops in California, Nevada, Utah, Idaho, Washington and Oregon before finishing on Aug. 21 in Santa Barbara, Calif.

Local SUP groups, paddling clubs and dealers will support nearly all of the tour's 25 stops.

"We want to get more people on the water," said Maud Broekmeulen, marketing manager for Jobe Watersports. "Whether they're trying the sport for the first time, or trying out the latest technology, we want them out there having fun."

Two Jobe brand ambassadors, Stephanie Lynn Martin and Taylor Reed Newton, will lead the tour event.

Jobe's mission is to get more people on the water. The company makes stand up paddleboards, wakeboards, water skis, wetsuits, life jackets and other watersports gear. Jobe is headquartered in the

Second Friday Art Walk Update from Downtown Alameda

When is a Friday night better than any other Friday night in Downtown Alameda? When it's a Second Friday Art Walk! (By the way, this month's Second Friday is tomorrow night.)

Second Fridays are a monthly celebration of the arts and worth the experience. Whether your interest is in paintings, photographs, printmaking, sculpture or mixed media, there's something for everyone to enjoy while in Downtown Alameda on a second Friday. Best of all, Second Friday Art Walks are totally free and guests can go from venue to venue at your own pace.

Local galleries and businesses throughout Downtown Alameda work hard to make second Fridays an exciting and relaxing evening for the community. Studios throughout the district take the time to open their creative havens to the public. Artists make huge efforts to show fresh, new and exciting works.

You'll want to visit multiple galleries on second Fridays to view amazing visual art alongside performance art, live music, DJs and/or film screenings. It's also a wonderful opportunity to meet the artists and to learn about their creative process.

Most venues serve wine and light snacks; some provide live music or other entertainment. Local restaurants, shops and coffee houses in Downtown Alameda also participate in Second Fridays by featuring changing art exhibits, special guest appearances or creative dining experiences.

The Second Friday Art Walk is held every second Friday of the month. Activities are typically scheduled from 6 to 9 p.m., but times may vary slightly at some locations. Be sure to check the event website for locations and schedules: <http://fridayartwalk.com>.

You can also find official art walk maps at a number of Downtown Alameda locations.

Artists Supporting Community

Studio 23 is a small independent art studio and community gallery space located just off Park Street. You'll find it on the corner of Encinal Avenue and Oak Street, behind the old Lock & Glass building. The gallery is run by Wesley and Jessica Warren (aka Wes and Jess), two artists who have been creating art together for over 20 years.

Opening an art studio and starting the art group Alameda Artists in 2013 has led to several reoccurring group art shows happening in conjunction with Second Fridays: February's "Eat Your Heart Out," June's Alameda Summer Art Fair and October's Black Light Art Show.

This September, prompted by Vintiq's Steve Gray Digiilio, they will be promoting "Art For Animals" where a portion of proceeds from the Second Friday art walk will go to Friends of the Alameda Animal Shelter (FAAS).

The monthly Second Friday Art Walk was first initiated in 2009 under the name Estuary Art Attack but the event took place sporadically over the years. To continue on the path formed by the original organizers, the Warrens have been working hard for the last three years to keep Second Fridays going every month.

"All our extra time and money has gone into Second Friday shows and art events," said Jessica. "We love art, Alameda, and artists so there is no other way we'd rather spend our time."

Several galleries in the area have now joined forces to make this happen, including The Alley, Vintiq, Redux, 3 Dot, Starbaby Studios, Tiger's Blood Social Club, Twirl and Julie's Tea & Coffee.

"We feel blessed and excited to be a part of such a great town," said Jessica. "There are just so many amazing people here!"
